Stanley's State Announced.

The Henderson Gleaner, the personal organ of Mr. A. O. Stanley in the latter's campaign for the democratic nomination for Governor, prints an authorized interview from Mr. Stanley in the course of which Mr. Stanley indicates the candidates for State offices he is opposing as those he favors. All through Mr. Stanley's statement and the comments of the Gleaner runs a strain of unsurpassed bitterness against Buschmeyer and the Democratic leaders in Louisville. "Every Buschmeyer candidate in Louisville should be defeated," says the Gleaner, and the conspiracy on the part of Stanley and his friends to destroy the Democratic party in Louisville is made clear. Mr. Stanley himself makes an appeal for votes for James P. Edmonds for Lieutenant Governor, who he says, is trying to carry Louisville for him (Stanley) and against Mr. McDermott. He also asks support for Robert Greene for Auditor against Thomas Rhea, and Sherman Goodpaster for Treasurer against Claude Terrell, Greene and Goodpaster are candidates for office that would give them seats on the State Board of Assessment, Stanley says: "Are my friends and will assist me in every way."—Russellville News-Democrat.

"Is it a girl?" asked Flake Keyes, Hollis, Okla., rejoicing over the announcement that the stock had visited his home.

"No, it's girls; one, two, three, four of them," was the reply.

And finally it dawned upon him that he had been presented with four healthy daughters weighing six pounds each.

Headache and Nervousness Cured.

"Chamberlain's Tablets are entitled to all the praise I can give them," writes Mrs. Richard Olin, Spencerport, N. Y. They have cured me of headache and nervousness and restored me to my normal health." For sale by all dealers.

Relief plans have been launched for the destitute miners in the Southern Ohio coal fields.

Mr. and Mrs. Pence See California.

Believing the friends would like to hear of Mr. and Mrs. Pence's travels in California, even though I am a little late in writing, I will tell you of some of the trips they have taken.

Several days after arriving and when rested Mr. Pence took a deep sea fishing trip. Ready at six o'clock, he climbed on the boat with ten other men about his age. They went out about seventy miles. When the party arrived in the evening they had caught about four hundred pounds. Lucky to say none were sea-sick.

Mr. and Mrs. Pence started out sight-seeing. First they took in Pasadena and visited Bucho's Sunken Gardens which were beautiful sights to behold.

Next morning leaving Los Angeles by auto and as the roads were paved all the way they had a fine trip. Pass through the Santa Monica Valley to Brea. Lahabra Valley is considered about one of the most productive valleys in the state of California in the way of oats, barley and citrus fruits.

At Whittier, another town they passed through, is an Alligator pear tree which is insured for $3,500 and produces a crop which is sold for $3,500. Also at Whittier is the great Leffingwell ranch containing six hundred acres of oranges, lemons and walnuts, the walnuts being from two hundred dollars to one thousand dollars an acre, they have their own packing house and house for the help.

Brea is an oil town, laid out three years ago. It has about one thousand inhabitants and one hundred and eighty-six oil wells, producing from four hundred to two thousand, four hundred barrels of oil every twenty-four hours. Coming back they saw a California ranch. They expected to see one like those in Texas, but they saw two acres with a California house on it and fruit trees around it.

Mr. and Mrs. Pence and a few others went to San Diego to see the fair. They went down by boat and had a fine trip. You may ask them about coming back. The buildings and grounds are beautiful. Most of the people say that the grounds at San Diego surpass those at San Francisco. They also took the Point Loma trip.

Next took the Balboa Trip, a hundred miles for a hundred cents. Riding sixty miles along the coast and visiting the beaches. They were perfectly delighted with this trip.

Later they went to Deer Brown and Curry, the two evangelists who were holding camp meeting at Huntington Beach about twenty-five miles from Los Angeles.

I will leave the rest for Mr. and Mrs. Pence to tell when they arrive at Stanford. —ELIZABETH SEWELL, Long Beach, Cal.

State-Wide In Kansas

Here's what state-wide prohibition has done for Kansas according to Gov. Copper, of that state:

"As a result of Prohibition, the annual expenditure for liquor has been reduced from $21 per capita, the average in the United States, to $1.23 in Kansas; illiteracy among Kansas people has been reduced to two percent—the lowest in the United States; there are 48 counties which did not send a prisoner to the penitentiary and 87 counties that did not send an insane patient to the asylums last year, more than a dozen Kansas counties have not called a jury in ten years to try a criminal case; 58 counties were without prisoners in their jails; 28 counties were without paupers in their almshouses; the Kansas death rate is the lowest in the United States; one-half for each 1,000 persons there are more students in the Kansas colleges and universities in proportion to population than any other State in the Union; the bank deposits in ten years have increased from $100,000,000 to more than $200,000,000. Kansas with a population of 1,750,000 has as much wealth as Chicago, with a population of 2,500,000, and the per capita wealth of Kansas is the greatest of any State in the Union—approximately $1,700 for every man, woman and child in the State.

If the people of Kentucky are given an opportunity to vote on the State-wide Prohibition question the Governor of this State will be saying something similar about old Kentucky in ten or twelve years from now. Why stay at the foot of the list intellectually and at the top of the list in unadulterated Deit works—liquor traffic?—Richmond Climax.

Stabbed Frank From Fear of Mob.

William Green, the convict, who stabbed Leo M. Friess, the prison at Milledgeville, Ga., told Gov. Harris he did it because he feared the prison would be attacked by a mob bent on lynching Frank. The Governor came with a committee of the legislature to investigate prison conditions and get Green and Friess out. Green said he alone planned the attack, several days before it took place. He said the knife he used was not the one he used when killing hogs as had been reported, but that he had stolen the weapon from the kitchen Friday before the attack and hid it in his bunk. "I felt that as long as he (Frank) was here, there was danger of the prison being attacked," said Green. "I was afraid the guards and people making the attack would shoot at each other and the people be killed, so I came to the conclusion that it was my duty to save the people from danger to which Frank's presence exposed them. So I decided to kill him.

Cured of Indigestion.

Mrs. Sallie P. Clawson, Indiana, Pa., was bothered with indigestion. "My stomach pained me night and day," she writes, "I would feel bloated and have headache and belching after eating. I also suffered from constipation. My daughter had used Chamberlain's Tablets and they did her so much good that she gave me a few doses of them and insisted upon my trying them. They helped me. I feel better and she has done." For sale by all dealers.

Relief.

"When I sing I get tears in my eyes. What can I do for this?" "Stuff cotton in your ears."—Chicago Tribune.

Mr. McChesney's Address Enjoyed.

A large and appreciative audience greeted the Hon. H. V. McChesney at Crab Orchard Thursday night. A stage was erected for the speaker in the vacant lot adjoining Lyne Bros' drug store and besides this the great crowd thronged the street on both sides.

Maurice Perkins in a most pleasing manner notified the crowd that Mr. Skiles, cashier of the Crab Orchard Banking Co., would introduce the speaker and Mr. Skiles came forward and in a few brief remarks stated that he and McChesney had long been friends and that no better Christian, no better neighbor, no better Democrat could be found in this county.

Mr. McChesney then came forward and in an easy graceful manner delivered one of the finest addresses ever heard in our little city. He touched upon the evils which caused, explained how by getting rid of this evil, the state would enjoy a greater prosperity, our boys and girls would be saved. He took up every argument the whisky men put forward and tore it in threads, showed that no man had any right to make whisky, it was only a privilege granted by the people and the people had the right to withdraw this privilege at any time they saw fit and we feel that our dear old Commonwealth sees by this time that this privilege has been ruthlessly abused and it will arise and assert its power to crush this terrible evil and state-wide prohibition will be the issue in 1917. From the many who voluntarily pledged their support, we believe that this whole section stands firm for McChesney.—Mrs. Bettie A. Buchanan.

Has Great Army For Students.

The annual report of the Commissioner of Education of the United States gives some interesting figures about the number of persons enrolled in educational institutions in the United States in 1914. It shows that in round numbers there were 22,000,000 persons, or a little more than one fifth of the entire population of the country, using this population at 100,000,000. Of these students over 10,000,000 were in elementary schools, 1,374,000 in secondary schools, both public and private, and 216,000 in colleges and universities. Close to another 100,000 were in normal schools preparing to be teachers, 67,000 were in professional schools and the remainder were scattered through other types of institutions. The teachers for this educational army numbered 700,000, of whom 566,000 were in public schools. In point of rapid growth the public high school still presents the most impressive figures; the enrollment for 1914 is greater by over 84,000 than the year before. The cost of education for the past year, as estimated by the bureau, was $750,000,000.

An Important Office.

Judge John E. Newman, of Bardonia, who is seeking the Democratic nomination for Railroad Commissioner of this District, has a very unique and systematic campaign. He has visited practically every town, village and crossroad store in the District, and the voters have been deeply impressed with his manner, and his splendid qualifications to hold the office. In addition to this important office, he has written a letter to practically every voter in the District, setting out his qualifications for this office; and there is every reason to believe that when the polls close on Saturday, the 7th day of August, he will show hands, some majority over both his opponents. The people of the State have reason to congratulate themselves in his prospective victory, for it is quite certain that no man has ever held the office of Railroad Commissioner in this State, who possessed the qualifications superior to those of Judge Newman.

Thaw's Home-Coming.

This is the way the Philadelphia Public Ledger mentions the return of Harry Thaw to his home in Pittsburgh after a long absence, which was not altogether because of his liking: "The great man returned to his native city after an absence of nine years. For thousands of people turned out to meet him, crying 'Welcome home.' Most of them were women and young girls. No president ever received such a reception. A hundred automobiles, filled with crazed enthusiasts, raced after him, and when his home was reached they carried him over the lawn. His picture was taken hundreds of times. Who was he? A great artist? A great general? A great inventor? A great poet? No, he was Pittsburgh's favorite murderer."

Help Save Millions.

Hog cholera caused a loss of about $2,000,000 in Kentucky last year. Approximately one-fourth of the outbreaks were carried from farm to farm on the shoes of man. To prevent this loss farmers in every community must co-operate. Clean and disinfect your hog houses. Scatter slacked lime about the hog house and lot. Stay away from infected stock yards and farms. Quarantine new stock. Provide clean, dry quarters for hogs. Keep internal and external parasites away from the hogs. Feed balanced rations. Inspect your herd every day. Anti-hog cholera clubs will be organized in every county where sufficient interest is manifest.

Mr. Puryear Has Appendicitis.

His friends here and elsewhere will learn with regret that Commonwealth's Attorney E. V. Puryear is ill at his home in Danville of appendicitis. He is said to be a very sick man. It is particularly unfortunate for him that his illness should come at the time it does—the wind-up of a hot campaign against our countyman, Judge John Sam Orsley for Commonwealth's Attorney.

Thetus W. Sims, Congressman from Tennessee, has announced for the Senate in opposition to Luke Lea.

JUDGE BAILEY IN WEST

Sends His Regards To Friends In Letter To I. J. From California

The I. J. has received a letter from County Judge James P. Bailey, who is now at Orlville, California, visiting his daughter, Mrs. H. D. Gregory, and taking in the San Francisco Exposition. The Judge is having a big time and enjoying himself as the following letter will indicate:

Orlville, Cal.
July 20, 1915.

Dear Friends:—

I have decided to spare you the ordeal of receiving letters from me individually and concluded this would be the best method of writing to you collectively. I have about the same to say to each of you any way, first, thanking you for your thoughtfulness in writing to me and second, that this is a pretty good country, but rather "tough" and "speedy" for one so "old and feeble."

I learned from a gentleman in whom I have always had a great deal of confidence that the "Commonwealth" and the Sheriff are inclined to spend too much money since I left, considering the sage advice I gave them about keeping expenses down.

I was very much surprised to hear that "Er-Ker" was following suit and was becoming a spend-thrift of the people's money. I had imagined he would take care of Mr. Manuel and "Others" in my absence.

The business man on the corner of Depot street and Main inquired as to who I was keeping company with, and I shall enlighten him by saying "with all nations." Was down at the Feather River Bathing Beach the other day and just as I was donning my bathing-suit, very much to my surprise I saw a big six foot one jump off the diving-board so I whispered to my little suit, "You don't get wet today."

And to the handsome Secretary of "H" who gave me his dissertation on his cat, dog, and okey (but the days always came last) I shall say that I feel very grateful for "them" words expressing the sentiments of an "outsider." Every little bit helps.

And to the friend who wished me perpetual sunshine will say there has not been a drop of rain since my arrival, all flowers and sunshine.

Just a word to my friend of the Drug-Store. "Tel the girls just to be patient and I will soon return and you won't have to get a new search warrant either." Thank you kindly for offering to deliver any "news" for me but so far I have been able to my own "newsing."

Last, but not least comes my antebellum pal and I want to advise him to seriously consider coming to California and growing young. I am doing.

Am grieved to learn that Hell has broke loose in Georgia and I fear that I will have to soon go home to our city so that peace will again reign supreme.

Very Sincerely,

JAS. P. BAILEY.

P. S. Best wishes to the gentleman who is happiest when walking the streets with his hands behind him.

Sets Fire To Jail.

Millard Arnold, who terrorized the Skerags Creek locality of Rockcastle county for three days some two months ago, fired the jail ceiling at Mt. Vernon, when he was making his escape with other prisoners when the jailer came to open the door. The fire had made big headway before being discovered. The Sheriff and other officers arrived before the almost smothered prisoners were taken out. It required two hours to put out the fire. Arnold was taken to the London jail on the midnight train. While chained to another prisoner, awaiting the train at the depot he attacked and choked Robert W. and would probably have killed him had not Smith, a companion, knocked Arnold down with a revolver, cutting a big gash in his head.

Col. Walton's Candidacy Meeting With Approval.

Col. W. P. Walton, Lexington's aggressive candidate for the Democratic nomination for Secretary of State, returned yesterday from a week's campaigning through the First and Second congressional districts in Western Kentucky. Col. Walton says he had a triumphal tour wherever he went and that judging from the enthusiastic reception accorded him his candidacy is meeting with the hearty approval of the voters of that section of the State—Lexington Leader.

Best Diarrhoea Remedy.

If you have ever used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy you know that it is a success. Sam F. Guin, Whatley, Ala., writes, "I had a case of cholera and it settled in my stomach and bowels. Reunion Of Fish Family.

Crab Orchard, July 24th.—Quite an enjoyable affair was had today at the famous Sulphur Well near the depot at this place. It was a reunion of the Fish family. The only feature of the gathering that was just not what it might have been was only a part of the family was present. The occasion of the reunion was the presence of Mr. Stark L. Fish from Oklahoma City. While there has been larger reunions in this county, yet this one for honorable men and pretty women has been equalled by few and unsurpassed by none. There was dinner on the ground fit for a king. It was a feast of brotherly love. Each individual seemed to try to make every one feel happy. The oldest member of the family was Mrs. Martha E. Fish, of Crab Orchard, who is 76 years old, in good health, and one of the finest looking women in the county. She is the mother of 12 children, 10 of whom are living. She has 38 living grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren, and nieces, nephews, son-in-laws and daughter-in-laws until you cannot rest. Of Mrs. Fish's children present were: Mrs. J. G. Carpenter, of Stanford; Mrs. L. Fish, of Oklahoma City; Mr. Ivan W. Fish, Crab Orchard; Mrs. W. C. Pettus, Crab Orchard; Mrs. W. D. Newland, Crab Orchard; Mrs. Dexter Ballou, Crab Orchard. Grandchildren and other relatives present were: Miss Josephine Carpenter, Stanford; Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Smith, Fort Smith, Ark.; Miss Elizabeth Newland, Crab Orchard; Miss Joan Baizou, Stanford; Leonard Dexter Ballou, Stanford; Mr. Montez Fish, Edwin Newland, Leo Newland, Guy Newland, Miss Clara Pettus, William Pettus, Clara Doty Fish, Henry Shelby Fish, Mary Margaret Fish, of Crab Orchard; William Rhinehart, Louisville; Mrs. T. Gov. McDermott Passes Through Lieut. Gov. E. J. McDermott passed through Lancaster yesterday morning where he spoke in the afternoon. At the depot he told an I. J. representative that he was feeling good about his prospects of being the nominee for governor. He also informed him that Stanley's cause was winning but would not admit that McDermott was gaining ground. In fact he impressed the representative with the fact that he thought he was getting converts from all the other three gentlemen who are anxious as he is to serve the State as its chief executive.

Ballots for the August Primary.

County Clerk George B. Cooper has turned over to this office the preparation of the ballots for the August primary. There will be two tickets in the field—the democratic and the republican—and as each party is entitled to a separate book, it will be necessary to furnish 26 books for the thirteen precincts. Some 10,000 ballots are required, including educational ballots. The law specifies that there shall be fifty per cent more ballots in each book than there were votes cast in the preceding State election.

Keenon Strong in Rockcastle.

Dr. T. M. Pennington was up from Stanford yesterday in the interest of his brother-in-law, Rodman Keenon, who is a candidate for Clerk of the Court of Appeals. The Doctor has many friends in Rockcastle and complimentary to Dr. Pennington as well as supporting a competent and well-fitted man for the place, the Democrats whom the Doctor met here yesterday, assured him almost to a man of their support for Keenon for Clerk.—Mt. Vernon Signal.

Baughman Acquitted.

Charley Baughman, colored, of this city, was acquitted at Danville Saturday of the charge of peddling in cocaine, or rather of violation of the anti-narcotic act. Baughman was arrested by revenue officers and taken to Danville some two weeks ago to be tried before Commissioner Lawwill as soon as the witnesses could be secured.

Danville Fair Lost Money.

The Danville fair had a magnificent show of stock but the crowds were so small that the association lost a small amount of money. Busy country people and the scarcity of money probably had more to do with the loss than anything else. The backward season also might have cut a figure.

Hon. Jack Harding Dead.

Hon. Jack Harding, a prominent citizen of Pleasantville and a brother of Hon. Robert Harding, of Danville, is dead after a protracted illness. He was 73 years old and is survived by his wife and two daughters. He also leaves a sister, Mrs. James H. Gentry, of Boyle.

For Representative in Legislature
W. G. CROUCH.

The "conscience fund" has grown to the proportions of a half million in the treasury at Washington. This money has been accumulating for years and comes in amounts varying from a few cents to many thousands of dollars. It is supposed to come from conscience-stricken persons who have by fraud enriched themselves for a time, but could not resist the still small voice that bade them make restitution.

Ten thousand dollars in currency, the second largest contribution to the conscience fund ever received by the government, arrived at the department Sunday in a plain envelope mailed Saturday at New York, accompanied by an unsigned letter which said:

"The sender has paid double to the United States what he stole and yet conscience is not satisfied. Here is another payment."

The package contained three $100 gold certificates; eleven $500 certificates and thirty $100 silver and gold notes.

Treasury officials found nothing in the letter or amount to indicate a connection with any of the government's losses by fraud so they placed it with $500,000 more that has accumulated in the treasury vaults from conscience-stricken people who have sent sums ranging from one cent to $18,669. The largest sum ever received came in 1909, probably from someone who had perpetrated a customs fraud.

The $10,000 fund came addressed to Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo and marked "personal."

Judge Broyles, of Atlanta, known to the habitués of the police court of that city for many years as "Judge Biles," urges the newspapers of Georgia to stand for a compulsory education law, arguing that crime is bred in ignorance, but he goes further and says that the most dangerous man in the world is that one who goes round with whisky in his stomach and a pistol in his pocket. It is generally true that illiteracy and crime go hand in hand, but not necessarily so. There are many educated men who put whisky in their stomachs and make themselves walking arsenals. But upon the whole the Broyles theory is correct. Education will eventually eradicate crime, or in any event reduce it to an inconspicuous minimum. It might require generations to accomplish this much desired end, but in the light of observation and reason the Atlanta purist is undoubtedly on the right track. I would be hard to find a man who had studied criminals at closer range and with keener insight than Judge Broyles.

The overturning of the steamship, Eastland, in Chicago river in the heart of the busy city, and causing the loss of more than a thousand lives, adds another chapter to the horrors of land and sea that will make the present year remembered. Over twenty-five hundred of the employees of the Western Electric Company were on the steamer, starting for a picnic and without a moment's notice the boat listed and then tipped and in less than five minutes it and most of its human cargo was out of sight. The speedy and efficient work of the life-savers greatly curtailed the number of those who went to a watery grave, but the thought of a thousand human beings being wiped out of existence in the twinkling of an eye is sufficiently appalling to send cold chills down one's spinal column and make him wonder why fate decreed such a horrible destruction then and there.

War contracts and labor wars seem to be synonymous. Several of the big concerns that have contracts with European nations at war are having trouble with their help. It is reported that such troubles have been bred by German sympathizers. This seems improbable. It is more likely that the demand for better wages has grown out of the laborer to prosper along with his employer. War contracts are fat contracts, as a rule. The manufacturers are making huge wads of money and they shouldn't object to giving their labor a reasonable proportion of the profits.

Col. W. P. Whitson, candidate for the democratic nomination for Secretary of State, is the only person asking for State office who has never held an office or eaten political pie. He was working for and contributing to the success of the democratic party before most of the other candidates were born. He has never scratched a ticket nor taken "cold feet" on any democratic nominee. Isn't this enough to give his candidacy consideration? If not, we will have more to say next issue.

The strike of New York pants-makers may produce an unpleasant situation for men-folks. Any prolonged cessation in the manufacture of pants would cause scarcity and high prices. A fellow can get along pretty well without coat and vest, but pants are so exceedingly indispensable that it is sheer folly to think of doing without them.

Miss Mafy Chapman, of Memphis, committed suicide in a Lexington sanitarium, using her corset strings to make a rope with which to hang herself. Had she waited patiently the corset would have done its work and the fearful heritage of suicide would not have had to be borne by those who weep for her.

Kentucky is at last free of the foot and mouth disease as well as the quarantine against it. Cattle men can now get busy and make up for lost time, but whether they can make up the loss of money that the disease has occasioned, remains to be seen.

Notable Year In The World's History

This will go down in the history of the world as a year of great and unusual events. The world war has first claim on the attention and to the records of the historian. Its magnitude can hardly be exaggerated; its far reaching effects cannot be over-estimated. The United States is the most neutral of any nation, and is far removed from the scenes of conflict, yet the effects of the war are here apparent in many ways. But in spite of all the depression incident to the war the business of the world moves on very much as it did previously. The great exposition which had been planned to take place at San Francisco is in full progress, undaunted by the war and its rumors. If preparations had not been made for the exposition it is not to be doubted that the event would have been cancelled. The war cloud was more ominous in its portents than the war has been even in its horrible reality. Not that it was planned thus, but that it so happened. It will be a matter of epochal importance that while the greatest war of history was raging in the east the greatest industrial exposition in history was carried out in the west. It will be of vast importance to the students of world economics that while the tendrils and filaments of commercial interests extend through the entire fabric of human endeavor, even unto the ends of the earth, yet the interweaving was not intricate enough to entangle or put a damper upon the juggernaut wheels of progress. This gigantic enterprise is first aid to the "See America First" movement, and before the end of the year travel across the continent will have reached a volume never before recorded. Thousands of Americans will see their country for the first time, and opportunity it comes, when the east is ablaze with battle. It is reasonable to inculcate love of country—the term of patriotism—for the time may come again when the sons of America will rally round the flag for sterner purposes than a Fourth of July celebration. If happily that time come we shall look back upon the year 1915 as a period of incubation for latent patriotism. The sheer antithesis of events now transpiring give them a kinship, and this relationship will link them as long as the memory of man lasts.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Cancer. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they will refund the money for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Fresh successes for the British against the Turks along the Euphrates River and the capture of the town of Nasiriyeh are announced by London. HENRY M. BOSWORTH

SURE TO WIN

In His Present Position As Auditor He Has Increased the Revenue of the State In Round Numbers $2,500,000

AND THE DEMOCRATS OF KENTUCKY WILL GIVE FAYETTE COUNTY MAN AN OVERWHELMING MAJORITY

Henry M. Bosworth Who By His Courageous Fight For the Interests of the People of the State, as Auditor of the State, Has Made Himself the People's Candidate for the Democratic Nomination for Governor and is Bound to Receive an Overwhelming Majority in the August Primary.

FIRST: He has increased the revenue of the state in round numbers, in the last three years, TWO AND ONE-HALF MILLION DOLLARS—more than enough to pay the state out of debt. He is the only Auditor who has had the courage of his convictions; who has had the nerve to defend the state against the corporations, and in the face of all opposition he raised the assessments of the corporations from $48,000,000 to more than $132,000,000 annually. This required a courageous fight because corporations as a rule do not lay down, but with their array of lawyers they fight to the bitter end; hence the record of Henry M. Bosworth will go down in history as the greatest record ever made by any Auditor of the state.

SECOND: Henry M. Bosworth is a practical man; he is a practical farmer; he is a practical business man; he is in position to give to this state intelligent supervision and a business-like administration.

THIRD: Henry M. Bosworth stands for right—he is not controlled by the Breweries, by the Whiskey Trust, by the Railroads, or other corporations. He stands alone. He is fighting for a principle, and will go down in defeat rather than sacrifice that principle.

FOURTH: Henry M. Bosworth has always stood for Democratic principles, and he will stand for them at this critical time for the party.

To those who believe in this kind of an administration, who believe in this kind of a man, Henry M. Bosworth appeals for support in the August primary.—Somerset Journal.

R. S. EUBANK

The man whom school people know as "The Man Who Took the Public Schools out of Politics." For ten years he has been giving his time and using his own money in the effort to develop the rural schools of Kentucky. His editorial utterances in the Southern School Journal have done more to shape public opinion than any other one factor, and have always been in favor of helpful measures and opposed to everything which might interfere with the right of the child to free education. He believes that opportunity should be brought to the child in the home district. His County School Board law, now in force, makes it possible for each county to build its school system strong enough to enable every child to prepare for College or University work, or for the practical business of farm, mercantile or home life while residing in his father's home. The people are strong in their endorsement of Mr. Eubank's candidacy for the Democratic nomination to the office of Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Sheriff Kincaid and his deputies arrested Samuel H. Edwards, general superintendent of the Tidewater Oil Company at Bayonne, N. J., and thirty-two guards, charging them with inciting to riot.

"The first dose of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy caused gall stones to pass from me. I am feeling much better than I have ever before. I am 64 years old and I had never before enjoyed one whole good day."

"I would not give the one bottle you sent me for all the drugs and doctors' medicine that is made."

A Seven Months' School Term With Increased Salaries For Teachers Per Month

HAMLETT'S RECORD IN OFFICE

BARKSDALE HAMLETT

WILL BE THE DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE FOR SECRETARY OF STATE.

Barksdale Hamlett, of Christian County, the leading candidate for the Democratic nomination for Secretary of State, declares for Kentucky a seven months' school term, with a per capita of $5.25, an increase of 75c over last year.

The establishment of a seven months' school term with the increase of the teachers' salaries, and without an increase of taxation, is the greatest educational achievement in the history of Kentucky, as well as the greatest financial achievement. The man has taken rank as an expert—a wizard—of finance among the leaders of the Commonwealth.

When he went into office four years ago, there was a deficit of several hundred thousand dollars in the treasury of the school fund. He re-adjusted completely the system of school finance in such a way as to pay off the deficit, to increase the per capita from $4.00 to $5.25, to pay the teachers promptly every month—a thing never done before in the history of Kentucky; and to accomplish the end for which he has labored for eighteen years, that of giving to the people of Kentucky a permanently established school system with a term of seven months.

While State Superintendent of Public Instruction, he has established new precedents, serving personally as a leader in the field. He has given to the people of Kentucky a school free and accessible to every child, in every rural district in Kentucky. His personal leadership has brought about improved facilities in the office of every County Superintendent in Kentucky.

He secured a rational and effective compulsory attendance school law, by which the attendance in the public schools of Kentucky has increased more than 35 per cent, placing Kentucky in the foremost ranks of the States of America for educational and industrial progress.

The Course of Study prepared by Mr. Hamlett as Superintendent of Public Instruction, embracing the elements of agriculture, domestic science and mechanical arts, is a recognized guide for the conduct of the schools not only of Kentucky, but for many other States.

He has accomplished the establishment of county high schools accessible in every county in Kentucky.

He has stood for and promoted the employment of and accomplished for the schools of Kentucky the services of teachers of the highest scholarship, character and personality.

Under his administration of the public school system of Kentucky, there has been a vital co-operation of all factors looking to the improvement of Kentucky's industrial conditions.

He has lent his best efforts to the building of good roads and to securing the consolidation of schools wherever and whenever practicable, that the greatest good might be accomplished at the least possible cost to the people.

One of the chief functions of the office of Secretary of State is membership on the State Board of Education. In this capacity he will continue to give his best efforts and services to the cause of education.

As a member of the State Board of Valuations and Assessments, as a member of the Sinking Fund Commission, and as a member of the State Printing Commission, Mr. Hamlett will serve the people and conserve their finances as he has done in the management of the school funds of the State, and if the people will elect others like him on these boards, Kentucky will soon be out of debt and her finances be in a most prosperous condition.

A young man at the age of thirty-six, having served faithfully for four years in one of the most important positions of trust in the gift of the people of Kentucky, he now seeks the endorsement of his party if the people think he has served them well. If his record has been good, if his services have been worth anything to the State of Kentucky, then the people of Kentucky will certainly elect him Secretary of State.
